

Congratulations to Local Attorneys Recognized by the San Luis Obispo Tribune

On December 16, 2014, the Tribune released its annual list of Top 20 Under 40 Award Winners. The list honors those young professionals and entrepreneurs who have proven leadership skills, dedication and vision regarding their profession or organization, and who contribute back to the community.

Among the Top 20 were four local attorneys: Melissa McGann Babu of The Babu Law Firm; Jordan Cunningham of Adamski, Moroski, Madden, Cumberland & Green, LLP; Jon-Erik Storm of Jon-Erik Storm, Inc.; and Janet Wallace of Duggan, Smith and Heath.

Short biographies of the winners will be published in The Tribune in early February. However, most of you already know that Melissa Babu is the San Luis Obispo County Bar' Association's most recent Past President. She was also the Editor of the Bar Bulletin. Currently, she has a solo practice that emphasizes business transactions and intellectual property. Jordan Cunningham is a former Deputy District Attorney who now works in a private civil firm and represents criminal defendants. Jon-Erik Storm has a solo practice, and he focuses on business litigation, employment law, and alternative dispute resolution. Janet Wallace works at Duggan, Smith & Heath and practices in the area of Business Transactions, Intellectual Property, Employment Law, Estate Planning, and Real Estate. She serves on the Board of Directors of Ms. JD, a nonprofit dedicated to promoting the success of women in the legal profession, and the San Luis Obispo County Arts Council.

The winners will be recognized at a special luncheon on February 5, 2015, at the Madonna Inn. Congratulations to our local attorneys and to all the award winners cited by The Tribune. ■
